

Time

It's about time, and a whole lot more.

Our Time solution is web-based to help you simplify and automate your employee time and labor management. By automating time collection, we can help you simplify administration and save money by eliminating redundant data entry and reducing errors. Whether you need to collect data online or with hardware clocks, we offer multiple ways for you to acquire time punches from your employees.

Using our intuitive website, your employees can clock in and out, review schedules, transfer labor hours and submit time sheets 24 hours a day, seven days a week. And, your time and labor policies are consistently applied across the organization.

Our robust reporting options help you assess job costing, control departmental costs, monitor staffing, analyze overtime and much more.

Our Time solution helps you transform time collection and labor management into a more effective, efficient and less costly process.

With our Time solution, administrators can:

- Manage employee data
